

CONNEXALL FIREALERT

An emergency plan is an integral part of dealing with major crises and emergencies. Past events, such as Hurricane Katrina or the tsunami in Thailand have led to an increased awareness of the importance of proper emergency planning and having the necessary tools to communicate during crises. Emergency drills are essential, but you also need the means to provide mass notification to hundreds or even thousands of people and to know that these notifications have been acknowledged is crucial.

Connexall FireAlert is a web based platform that simplifies and accelerates mass notifications in emergency situations, such as:

- \\ Fires
- \\ Floods
- \\ Hurricanes
- \\ Tornadoes
- \\ Earthquakes

- \\ Gas leaks
- \\ Biohazard
- \\ Pandemics/Epidemics
- \\ Terrorist threats
- \\ And many others

With just a few clicks, users can create notifications or choose pre-defined messages from an existing list that can be sent instantaneously and acknowledged via email, text or voice message to one or more groups of people, providing real-time information and instructions necessary for appropriate action and response.

Select a pre-defined message or create a new one

Choose the type of Notification (Email, Call, SMS)

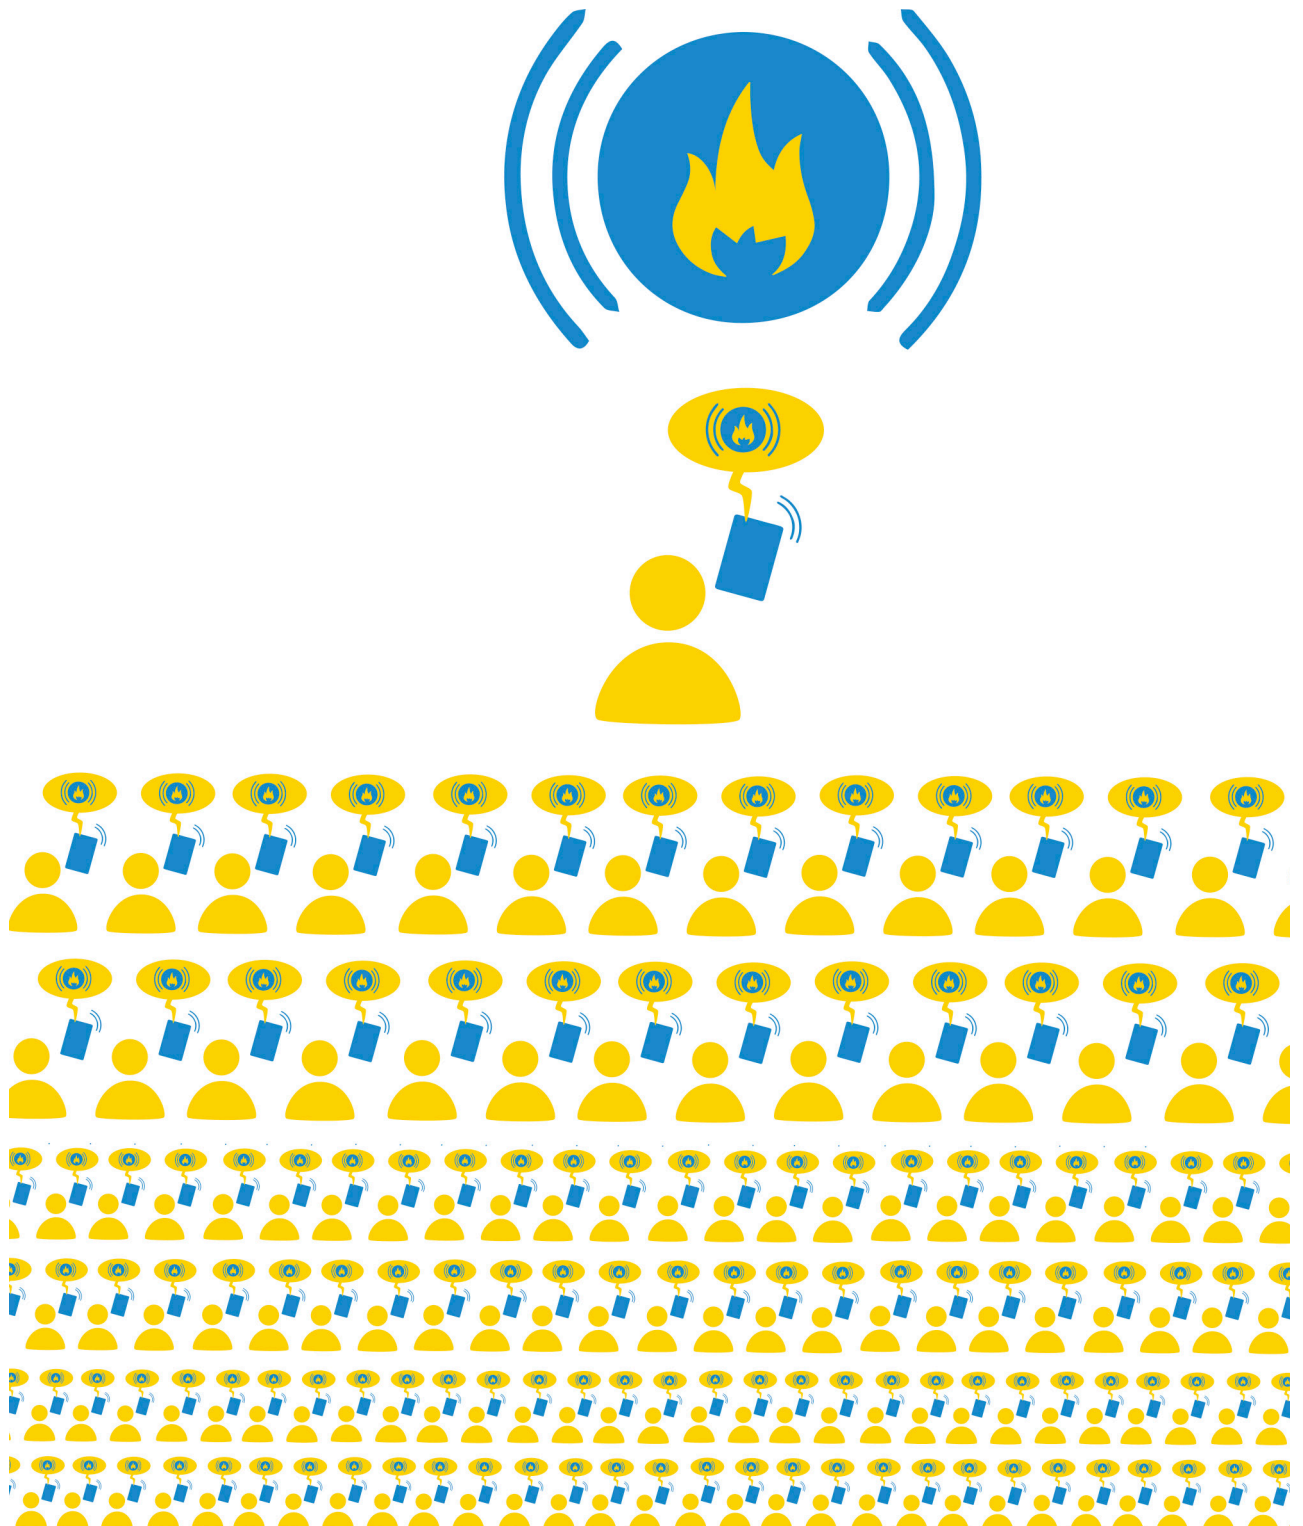

Select one or more groups of people

Send Notification

Notify hundreds or even thousands of people simultaneously with just a few clicks. Know if the notifications were delivered and who responded to the emergency. Simple, quick and effective.

Once the notification is sent, dispatchers are notified of successful delivery and see which recipients have confirmed and will respond to the emergency.
