CLINICAL ELE--ATE

Hospital leaders are passionate about keeping patients safe and delivering the highest quality of care. That's why they need data-driven insights regarding their clinical team's challenges.

Clinical Elevate delivers deep clinical insight paired with the hospital's current workflows to deliver better bedside care.

About Us

Connexall builds custom-designed digital platforms that improve quality of care, patient experience, and staff satisfaction.

How can hospital leaders get data-driven insights?

"Connexall's clinical and technology experts dive deep into your current workflows and technologies," explains Jan Capps, Director of Clinical Outcomes and Services. "We identify opportunities for improvement that best meet the needs of your staff and patients."

How Elevate Works

Clinical Elevate is tailored and scaled to provide "actionable insights" at the point of care. Connexall's Elevate Team of registered nurses (i.e., informaticists), and experienced technology leaders, come on-site to derive insights from:

Observation and interviews

Onsite discovery

Data analysis

Post-implementation follow-up.

Experienced Team

Clinical Elevate boasts more than two decades of clinical alarm management and workflow deployment experience, many decades of professional healthcare experience, and hundreds of successful implementations.

Why this is Important to Nursing and Technology Leaders

Experience matters. We can confidently say, "We've seen it all" and "no two hospitals are the same." But you do have clinical workflow similarities, and common frustrations, and we're confident we'll find the answers for you and your team's situation.
